WELL NOW, WHO WON?

It stands to reason, someone lost the struggle over tax revision. It probably was the group which won.

The paradox can be explained like this: Due to technicalities which made it impossible to over-rule Mr. Roosevelt, opponents of his ideas about taxes on undistributed surplus and capital gains had to take the best compromise they could get. It wasn't very good.

Thus, the President's ideas were upheld in principle, but in practice are to be modified to make them as little hurtful as possible. A stubborn executive has successfully maintained the principles of a bad tax.

In the long run, this will hurt the President and his party far more than a surrender could have hurt them. They have won a Pyrrhic victory—"one more such victory over the Romans and we are utterly undone."

HE STOLE THE SHOW

They're accusing Gen. John J. Pershing of stealing the show at the wedding of his son and Muriel Bache Richards—but making the accusation with tears in their eyes.

It wasn't merely the show at the wedding which the general stole last week. It was the whole show of the week's parade of events. Among stories of momentous happenings here and abroad, none was followed with more interest than the reappearance of America's favorite soldier.

It wasn't the first time Gen. Pershing had endeared himself. He rose to the occasion nobly in the World war. He rose to it again when the war was over by finding a place for himself in a time of peace. When a few months ago he was believed to be dying, the words of admiration began to flow over his career in a torrent.

They were checked suddenly and happily by his recovery, but released when he traveled east, again erect and handsome, to attend his son's wedding.

It is to be hoped the general is a client of a good clipping bureau. He is one man who has heard the tribute usually reserved for funeral orations.

ATTENTION, PLEASE

One day last week Sen. Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin publicly criticized the new deal for its ineptitude.

Shortly afterward, his brother, Gov. Philip F. LaFollette of Wisconsin, announced he had invited between three and four thousand liberals to meet in Madison next Thursday night. His announcement came at the end of a series of speeches in which he rapped the new deal and called for organized public action to rout the depression.

About the same time Mayor Fiorella H. LaGuardia of New York City, stumping the west in a cowboy hat, said a vast shakeup of political alliances is nearing. "On one side," he said, "will be the conservatives, many of the big businessmen and the professional politicians. On the other side will be the farmers, laboring men and progressives of several categories."

And in Kenosha, Wis., Norman Thomas, three-time Socialist candidate for the presidency, pledged his party to help build "a great labor party."

This is the handwriting on the wall. Without knowing what it says, or whether it was put there by four persons accidentally or working together, Americans must get out their bi-focals and try to decipher it if they want to be abreast of the times they're living in.

ALL EYES ON PENNSYLVANIA

Pennsylvanians do their primary voting May 7. If things continue to get hotter in Penn's woods, there'll be fire.

Worse yet, there might be an explosion of the volatile substances in the state's Democratic party. If that were to happen, Republicans would crawl out from under the rocks where they've been hiding and prowl happily among the Democratic ruins. As long as WPA money and Democratic patronage last, that seems to be their only chance to clean up.

This is just one reason for Pennsylvania being the center of political attraction this spring. Another, less important but no less interesting, is that new dealer and noted liberal, Joseph F. Guffey, erstwhile boss of the state and, when circumstances grant the time, its junior senator.

There is no politician quite like Mr. Guffey, the neatest combination of new deal theory and old deal practice in the business. His occupation is lining up votes; his avocation is bearing a torch for the new deal. He uses the torch to find the votes. It has worked fine so far.

If you can find enough votes to swamp the Democratic insurgents who resent Boss Guffey's alliance with John L. Lewis, James A. Farley, once the new deal's "practical" man, but lately turned skeptical, surely will have to doff his hat to a new master of the art of showing Democrats who's the boss.

THE STARS SAY:

For Wednesday, April 27

A very lively and interesting day in private and business associations is read from the important planetary configurations. The element of friendship seems to enter largely into all such activities. Progress seems assured, with finances increasing through speculative enterprise as well as practical propositions or new undertakings, in which influential persons may take an interest.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of much progress and prosperity, with business, new undertakings, speculation, litigation and employment all under excellent prospects. Powerful friendships and social contacts also may play an important part, and there seems to be decided intermingling of functions of a business and social nature. Aim high with such harmonious co-operation assured.

A child born on this day may be ambitious, versatile and capable in many directions, with its fine mentality and attractive personality advancing its position and assuring its popularity and success. Legal ability is accented.

CHICAGO ORGANIZING TO FIGHT NEW CRIME MENACE

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 26.—Chicago, which had its Al Capone and John Dillinger in the past, today is turning to fight a new crime menace—the bad boy.

"Criminals from 14 to 23 years of age—many of them boys whose cheeks have not yet felt a razor—now are replacing the tough-visaged prohibition-day and post-repeal gangsters as leaders in Cook county crime."

So great is the concern of authorities over the growing youthful crime wave here that Gov. Henry Horner is planning a special conference next month, May 10 and 11, to discuss means to meet what he says is "the state's No. 1 problem in crime."

13 Boy Murderers

Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington of Criminal Court reports that of 1,070 defendants who appeared before him in criminal court in a six-month period 799 of them were from 14 to 23 years old. Thirteen of them stand charged with the capital crime of murder, and most of the others with holdups and burglaries.

Authorities, groping for the cause of the "juvenile crime wave," are blaming free sale of marijuana cigarettes to school children, liquor, parental faults and poor house environment, homes broken by divorce, and the fact that boys are unable to obtain jobs after they leave school.

Police Appalled

Police are frankly appalled at the parade of boy "criminals" before them. An officer patrolling his beat sees two suspects in a stolen car. He shoots and wounds one and captures the other. Then he learns the suspects are only 19 and 12 years old. The 19-year-old, wounded snarl at him: "I'll get you coppers for this."

The officer shakes his head in bewilderment.

Nine Incendiary Fires Break Out and 52 burglaries are committed in a single neighborhood. The culprit, when found, proves to be a 14-year-old boy.

Cases Called Typical

States Attorney Thomas A. Courtney comments: "These cases are not isolated, they are typical. Half the eight automobiles which are stolen daily in Chicago now are taken by boys from 11 to 15. Many are second and third offenders."

Detectives set out to track down a gang responsible for the theft of $20,000 worth of typewriters from schools. They arrest not a band of veteran thieves but 13 high school boys, all 16 and 17.

Occasionally boys even younger fall into the police net, with records showing actual cases of gangs of sneak thieves that burglarized homes being led by boys 13 and 14.

10-Year-Old Boasts

Once, a 10-year-old boy boasted to police he was the "big chief" of a gang of four, the other members aged 12 and 14, which committed several burglaries, including one in which they entered a commercial firm by lowering themselves through a skylight.

The 10-year-old leader gloried in telling officers of feats of the gang; later he cried for his mother.

States Attorney Courtney Judge Harrington and Gov. Horner, are leading the fight to combat youthful lawlessness. They are being backed by metropolitan newspapers.

LANSING, Mich.—A course in traffic conduct and driving technique has been instituted here at the junior high school to teach the fundamentals of actual driving. Although the children are too young to drive, it is believed the course will enable them to drive more intelligently when they become of age.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland, New York City.

WHOOPIING COUGH

SOME DISEASES are seasonal; that is, they are more common at certain times of the year. For some unexplained reason, whooping cough is unusually prevalent during the late winter.

When I last told you about whooping cough, I pointed out the value of the new method of inoculation against the disease. This vaccine treatment has now been in use for several years and from all reports it appears to have been very successful.

The need for a means of protection in this disease is very great. It continues to be particularly serious in children under two years of age. The use of the vaccine has lessened its dangers. Even where it has not actually prevented the disease it has materially decreased its severity.

When the disease is contracted by one who has had the vaccine, it is because exposure came too soon after the treatment. It takes at least four months to develop this protection. So if the exposure occurs within the four months period, the "immunization" is not complete.

Whooping cough in itself is not so dangerous. It is a serious disease because it may be the forerunner of some other affliction. For example, a child with whooping cough may have his resistance so lowered that he readily contracts bronchitis, pneumonia or some other infection of the upper air passages. This danger is much greater if the young sufferer is anemic and undernourished.

Its Symptoms
It is well to be familiar with the symptoms of whooping cough. At first the child appears to have a mild cold with a cough. Other symptoms include frequent sneezing, running nose, running eyes and a slight hoarseness.

As the disease progresses there appears the characteristic sign of the disease. This is the classical "whoop," the symptom which gives the name to the ailment. The cough is dry and irritating, gradually becoming paroxysmal and terminating in an explosive "whoop." If whooping cough has been unusually prevalent in your neighborhood, it is wise for the parent to consult the doctor about the so-called vaccine treatment. Even if the disease is not prevalent, it is well to obtain this protection for your child. It is impossible to predict when the youngster may be exposed to the disease.

(Owing to pressure of other business Dr. Copeland cannot answer questions from readers.)

Noted Religious Paintings Discussed By Bible Class

Mrs. G. D. Keister was leader of the program at a meeting of the Lydia Bible class in Holy Trinity English Lutheran church last night.

Mrs. Keister used as her theme, "Picture Study of the Crucifixion," by Michael de Munkacsy, discussing the two world famous companion paintings, "Christ Before Pilate" and "The Crucifixion."

In her talk she emphasized the importance of the use of pictures in teaching, particularly in religious fields. She quoted the philosopher Confucius who said "One picture is worth 10,000 words. They speak a message that words cannot utter."

Munkacsy, famous artist whose original family name was Lieb, was born Feb. 20, 1844, in the fortress of Munkacs in the interior of Hungary. After Hungary won her independence every citizen was permitted to select a Hungarian name and the family chose that of the fortress.

Wins Rank of Baron

The emperor of Austria conferred the rank of baron on Munkacsy some years later, entitling him to the use of the German "von" or the French "de" in his name. He reached the height of his career in 1881 when he painted the masterpiece, "Christ Before Pilate," which was exhibited throughout Europe and in the United States in 1886. It was first shown at the Twenty-third Street tabernacle in New York City.

John Wanamaker of Philadelphia purchased the painting and its companion piece, "The Crucifixion," painted in 1884. The two pictures are exhibited every Lenten season in the Philadelphia Wanamaker store.

The painter, after finishing his famous bust of Christ, died in 1900.

Each of the 28 members at the meeting received a copy of "The Crucifixion" at the close of the program.

Roll call was answered with a Bible verse beginning with the letter C. Mrs. A. H. Schropp was a guest of the society.

Mrs. Henry Schultz was welcomed as a new member.

The devotional service was led by Mrs. Eric Eytan.

Hostesses were Mrs. N. C. Boarts, Mrs. A. H. Sponner and Mrs. Clemmer Green.

Mrs. Charles Youtz, president, was in charge of the business session.

Next Meeting May 23

Mrs. C. E. Donahay will be leader of the program at the next meeting May 23 at the home of Mrs. Thomas Egan, 242 South Ellsworth ave. Her subject will be a study of the hymn, "Rock of Ages."

Members will respond to roll call with a Bible verse with the letter D.

Mrs. Harold Zetterquest and Mrs. Otto Anderson will be associate hostesses.

Announces Plans For Music Week

Announcements concerning the observance of National Music week here were made by Mrs. E. E. Dyball, chairman, at a meeting of the Salem Music Study club in the library Monday afternoon.

The observance will open with a concert at 3 p. m. Sunday, May 1, in the Methodist church. Various programs throughout the week will continue the event.

Mrs. Ellis Satterthwaite, music supervisor for Salem public schools, outlined the program for the observance in the schools.

Marsilia Concert

Announcement was made of a concert to be given by Joseph Marsilia, prominent young singer and former Salem resident, in Alliance on May 13. Marsilia, who is studying at the Juillard school of music in New York City, attended Salem public schools and Mount Union college.

During a business meeting members arranged to hold next year's meetings at the library.

Mrs. H. E. Stiver opened the program by reviewing the operas, "The Flying Dutchman," "Lohengrin," "Tannhauser," and "Parsifal."

Miss Helen Dertfus, pianist, entertained with selections from "The Flying Dutchman," followed by a piano number, "Romance" (from Tannhauser), played by Mrs. J. W. Hundermark.

Mrs. P. H. Beaver, at the piano, played "Fantasia" (from Tannhauser). Mrs. Edgar Miller played themes in review of operas studied by the club this year. Miss Emma Kenreich presented a paper, "The Rise of Opera," and Mrs. Beaver reported several articles from the Ohio Federation of Music Clubs' paper.

The hostess, Mrs. H. J. Thompson, served refreshments during the social hour. The table was attractive with spring flowers.

The next meeting of the club will be the annual guest night observance at 8 p. m. Monday, May 9, in the library assembly room.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wisner and daughter Nancy of Westview, Pa., Mrs. J. L. Hoffman and son Steven of Alliance were weekend guests of their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Emma Wisner of Jennings ave.

Mrs. W. E. Bunn Honored By Club On Anniversary

A delightful luncheon and program was enjoyed by 104 members of the Salem Garden club, and guests, Monday afternoon in the Christian church.

The luncheon was served by ladies of the church. The room was beautifully decorated with large bouquets of peach and apple blossoms and japonica.

Novel Favors

Center decorations for the tables were small watercans filled with flowers which were later given as prizes. Miniature watercans for favors at each place contained a number of choice gourd seeds which members may plant.

Mrs. Loren B. Harris, president of the club, presented a lovely corsage of gardenias to Mrs. W. E. Bunn, who celebrated her birthday anniversary yesterday. Mrs. Bunn was active in organizing the club several years ago and has participated in its work since that time. Mrs. C. H. Betts assisted in the presentation.

A large birthday cake was a gift to Mrs. Bunn from Mrs. H. E. Williams.

Why didn't somebody TELL me?

WITHIN the next twelve months, some 300,000 motorists are going to buy cars at or about the price of a LaSalle—and still not get a LaSalle.

Many of these, we are convinced, will do this because they do not appreciate how little a LaSalle costs. They assume that LaSalle's price is high—because its quality and reputation are so high.

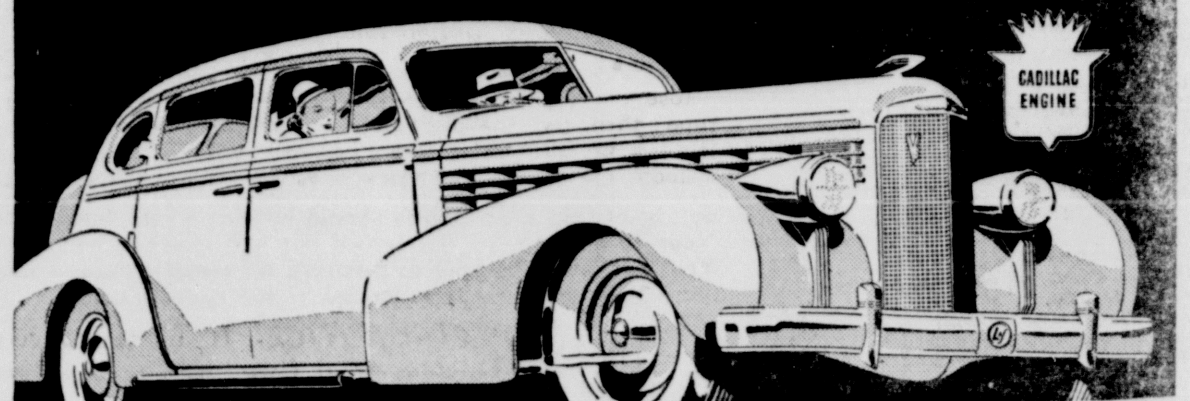

But this isn't true! As a matter of fact, you can pay more for certain models of eleven other cars than it costs to get a new LaSalle V-8.

If you expect to pay more than $1,000 for your next motor car—go on up and get a LaSalle. You ought to do this because there is really no substitute for Cadillac quality, Cadillac safety and Cadillac prestige.

Why not come in today for a demonstration?

Contributions Probe Opens at Columbus

COLUMBUS, April 26.—Two assistant attorneys general investigated today a charge that civil service employees in the state tax division were solicited for political campaign contributions.

Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy assigned Will P. Stephenson and Fred Guff after receiving yesterday an affidavit signed by Francis C. Hooper, a sales tax division clerk, which charged that he was asked to contribute five per cent of his salary to the Democratic campaign coffers. Hooper said his donation would total $78.

The clerk asserted in his sworn statement that Mrs. Florence Dailey, assistant sales tax supervisor, directed him on April 20 to the office of A. D. Hatch, department supervisor, and there he was asked by Daniel S. Earhart to contribute.

Earhart is an attorney-examiner in the department. Mrs. Dailey is a sister of Francis W. Poulson, state Democratic chairman.

Shortly before the affidavit was filed, Duffy told the Ohio League of Women Voters that it was up to the civil service commission to investigate such matters. Then in a communication to the commission Duffy said the board should investigate even if no complaints were received. Commissioners declined comment.

Tax Exemption Fate in Doubt

Barkley Uncertain As To Senate Action On F. D. R. Plan

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 26.—Senator Barkley of Kentucky, Democratic floor leader, said today it was "in the realm of doubt" whether the senate would approve President Roosevelt's tax exemption recommendations.

Mr. Roosevelt suggested yesterday that congress enact a bill removing all income tax exemptions from future federal and state securities issues and salaries.

Legislators Disagree
Legislators, while generally favoring his objectives, disagreed over the question of whether they could be effected by mere legislation or whether a constitutional amendment would be necessary.

A plan similar to that outlined by the President was submitted to the senate by Senator Clark (D., Mo.) when the tax revision bill was under consideration and was voted down, 41 to 23. Administration followers, including Barkley, were among the opponents.

Clark said today that Mr. Roosevelt's message might bring many senators around to supporting tax exemption legislation. Barkley, however, said the previous vote made a general change of sentiment appear doubtful.

A bill to end existing tax exemptions would have to originate in the house ways and means committee, which initiates all revenue legislation. Chairman Doughton (D., N. C.) of that group declined to predict whether action could be taken at this session.

"We will have to have a meeting and go over the President's message before we can tell what we are going to do," Doughton said.

Asks Prompt Action
Most congressional leaders interpreted Mr. Roosevelt's recommendations as meaning he would be pleased if action were taken at this session but would not insist on immediate consideration.

In the past, the courts have held that the government can not tax state securities and salaries and that the states can not tax federal securities and salaries. The President's message noted a trend away from this position in recent court decisions and added that "it is not unreasonable to hope" legislation wiping out tax exemptions might be sustained.

Senator Byrd (D., Va.), author of a proposed constitutional amendment, commented:

"We might pass legislation removing exemptions, and at the same time submit a constitutional amendment. Then, if the legislation were held unconstitutional, the amendment would have been started on its way and no time would be lost."

From Senator Pope (D., Idaho), proponent of a new system of processing taxes, came a statement that he might seek to tack such levies onto any legislation to restore existing exemptions. He lost an attempt to write processing taxes into the tax revision bill, now before a joint conference committee. The latter expected to complete a compromise measure by nightfall.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY Dearborn, Michigan

Gentlemen: When I received my new 1938 De Luxe Ford Sedan in January, I decided to make a few mileage tests of my own.

I made a test on a trip with five passengers in the car, driving between 60 and 65 miles per hour, and averaged 18.4 miles per gallon of gas.

At another date my wife and I took a trip to Lincoln, Nebraska, driving between 60 and 65 miles per hour most of the time, and our average was 18.7 miles per gallon. Naturally, I am well pleased with these figures. I have driven cars that were heavier and much more expensive, but I find the riding, handling and appearance of this Ford car are equal to any.

Sincerely,
A. F. MILLER

FORD MOTOR COMPANY Dearborn, Michigan

Gentlemen: I want you to know what a delight and pleasure it is for me to be the owner of a new 1938 De Luxe Ford. Its beautiful streamlined appearance evokes admiration from all sides, and many have mistaken it for a much higher priced car.

The luxuriously upholstered interior, coupled with its easy-riding qualities, make it a delight for my family to ride in. And last but not least, the powerful V-8 motor which responds so quickly. My satisfaction with all these points, plus remarkably economical gas and oil consumption, leads me to believe that I could not find a more satisfactory car at any price.

Very truly yours,
ALFRED D. HOFFMAN

SPEAKING OF Enthusiasm!

FORD MOTOR COMPANY Dearborn, Michigan

Gentlemen: I am the owner of a 1938 De Luxe Ford V-8 Tudor Sedan, which is the second Ford car I have owned. Previous to that time I was the owner of six automobiles of another make and, after "shifting" to Ford, I am better satisfied than I have ever been, and for a low-priced car I think it can't be beat. The Ford 8-cylinder engine for performance and economy sure does the job.

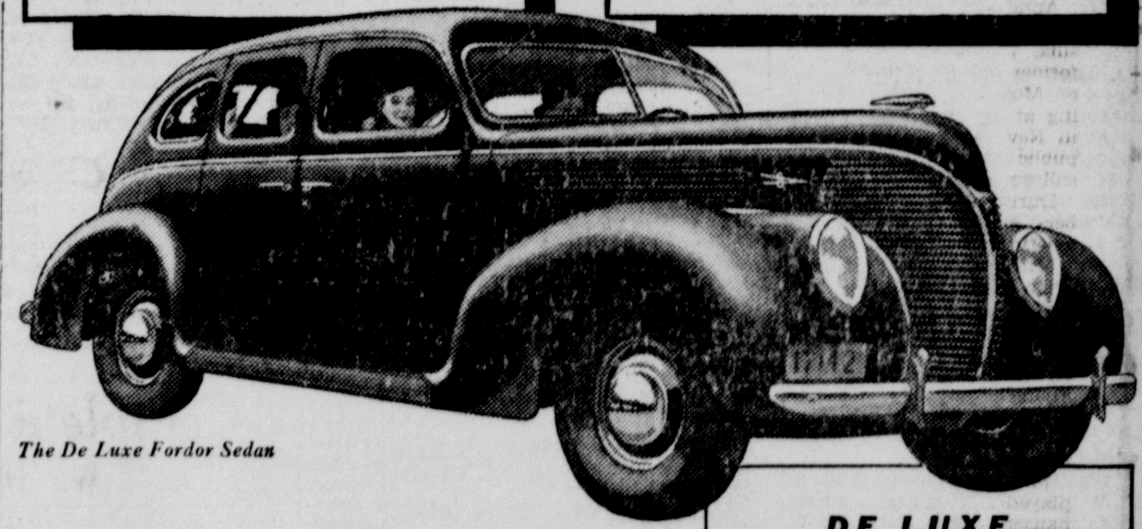

Yours very truly,
JOHN I. KENT

FORD MOTOR COMPANY Dearborn, Michigan

Gentlemen: I'm sure you will be interested in my experience on my first trip in the new '38' De Luxe Coupe delivered to me Sunday.

On this trip we drove into a filling station and asked the attendant to "fill her up." The tank slopped over on seven gallons and the speedometer read 154 miles. The station attendant's eyes stood out at this mileage, and needless to say I am more than pleased, as 22 miles per gallon on a brand-new 8-cylinder car must be a record.

Very truly yours,

"Rollicking Rollie", Meek And Mild, In Cleveland for Session With Indians' Boss

Vice President C. C. Slapnicka Threatens to Make Manager Oscar Vitt's Suspension Indefinite; Bradley Backs Him Up

(BULLETIN)

CLEVELAND, April 26.—Rollie Hemsley, the "Peck's bad boy" of the Cleveland Indians, was reinstated by Vice President C. C. Slapnicka today and hurried away to catch a train for Chicago, where he will rejoin the team.

CLEVELAND, April 26.—Hemsley the uninhibited arrives today at (another) crossroads in his topsy-turvy baseball career.

"Rollicking Rollie," the catcher whose deportment routed whatever was left of Manager Oscar Vitt's tranquility, has a date with Vice President C. C. Slapnicka of the Cleveland Indians.

The recalcitrant one faces a blanket charge of multiple infractions of training rules. More specifically, his superiors allege Hemsley (A) indulged inordinately in distilled beverages, and (B) bartered prescribed hours of slumber for the bright lights.

Vitt fined Hemsley $250 Sunday night and ordered him to return to Cleveland from Detroit, where the backstop had caught a stellar game that afternoon with young Bob Feller on the mound.

"I'm standing in a hotel lobby and Rollie walks by me," explained Vitt in Chicago yesterday. "It was obvious he hadn't been observing training regulations."

A soft-spoken, almost shy Hemsley arrived here to be put officially "on the carpet."

"I had a few drinks of liquor Sunday night," he said, "but I wasn't drunk. You could have knocked me over with a feather when I was told the bad news."

"I'm in good shape and ready to work any time. I certainly hope I can rejoin the team soon."

Slapnicka has threatened to make the suspension indefinite. Club President Alva Bradley, who termed Hemsley "Peck's bad boy," said he would back Slapnicka in the dispute.

"I hated to do it," Vitt commented. "I like Rollie personally and he's one of the finest fellows in the world—but what would happen if I continually overlooked his out-breaks?"

"Rollicking Rollie," who lost $5,000 in payless suspensions and fines last year with the St. Louis Browns, spoke in a similar vein.

"I've got no animosity toward Vitt," he said. "He's a great guy."

SCOUT FIGURES 1 IN 100 LASTS AFTER TRYOUT

Talent Hunter of Browns Laments Youngsters Can't Throw

ST. LOUIS, April 26.—The youthful hopeful who modestly admits he "was pretty good" on his high school or college nine and who attends a baseball spring training school with visions of a professional contract if he "makes good," has only about one chance in 100 of reaching even the minor leagues.

Those are the odds against the baseball beginner as figured by Charley Stis, scout for the St. Louis Browns. And Stis should know, for he's been on the trail of diamond talent of big league caliber for 12 years.

Stis has been with the Browns two years. Before that he was with the Chicago White Sox six years and the Philadelphia Phillies four years.

The Browns had 3,000 players under their eye last year in 12 spring training schools. All of them dreamed of fat professional salaries and the glamour of the "big time." But not more than 25 will turn out to be even average prospects, Stis estimates.

"Not major league prospects, you understand. Just good prospects. Some may make the big leagues. Some won't."

As for finding another Bob Feller in the group—there's only about one chance in the entire 3,000. That one chance, though, of finding a future major league sensation, adds to the thrill of trying to spot tomorrow's potential stars, according to Stis.

In selecting promising young players, he explains, "We always look for size and how good their arms are. These are two chief reasons for elimination. Sometimes small boys can be developed into baseball players, but if they don't have good arms it's just too bad."

Boys today just aren't the baseball players they used to be, Stis argues.

It's a funny thing how many boys come up these days that can't throw—no distance, no development. They don't throw enough when they're real young, like the boys used to, for 10 years on up, all summer long. When I was young we used to do that."

Columbiana Enters Class B In Relays

COLUMBIANA, April 26.—Coach Waldo Ward's Columbiana High school track team invades foreign territory again this Saturday, competing in the Class B division of the annual Ohio Wesleyan relays at Delaware.

Bill Entenken, who placed fifth in the 220-yard low hurdles, was the only Columbiana athlete to place in the Mansfield relays last week.

Columbiana placed second in the Class B division of the Wesleyan relays last year.

COLUMBUS, April 26.—Robert Johnson of Ravenna, O., today was Ohio State university's new swimming captain. He was elected at an athletic board dinner honoring the Buckeye team.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

BY SID FEDER

(Pinch-hitting for Eddie Brietz)
NEW YORK, April 26.—Along about this time every year, you wonder about the feud that makes Penn and Drake hold their relays on the same days. Instead of scheduling them a week or two apart so each could have its pick of the crack athletes, rather than having to split up the headliners, Jimmy Dykes was so hard up for shortstops after Luke Appling broke his leg he even tried out Jimmy, Jr.—but no dice. Don't worry about "poor" Joe DiMaggio. In addition to the $25,000 he collects from the Yankees, he's only cleaning up close to five grand for a magazine series, about the same for endorsements and about two G's a month from his fish place in Frisco.

Ray Matulewicz, the fighter Tommy Loughran picked up from Duke, will be billed as Matt Raymond. Onkel Francis Frisch, whose Cardinals are "way down at the bottom of the bunch, might have a lot less to worry about if the gas house gang had some of its traded ivory back. Such as Ripper Collins, who went to the Cubs; Burgess Whitehead, to the Giants; Leo Durocher (Dodgers); Gus Mancuso (Giants); and Pitchers Dizzy Dean and Tex Carleton who are with the Cubs.

Lifted from the new Charlie White Red Book: No National league batter has hit for the cycle (homer, triple, double, single in one game) since Ducky Medwick turned in the trick back in '35.

While Gerry Walker, Joe DiMaggio and Lou Gehrig all did it in the A. L. last year. Page Tom Means, Goose Goetin, in case you didn't know, still holds the record for hitting into four double plays in one game.

And Boiling Boly Grimes is one of six with a finger in the N. L. mark—three. Classiest pinch hitter of all time is Cliff Bolton, the ex-Senator and Tiger, who batted for 437 in 55 games in six years.

Believe it or not, four pitchers have fanned four batters each in a single inning. Catcher missed the third strike, or batter swung at a wild pitch in each case. And the flinger had to do it all over again.

Note to Minnesota's 1938 grid rivals: George Franck, a bad man when he cuts loose, clicked to runs of 25 and 45 yards in spring training the other day.

Bob Jones, who coaches Clemson's boxers, has never been in the ring in his life. But he turned out the Southern conference champs last season.

Looks like Frank Frisch will string along with Terry Moore on third base for the summer. And does anyone remember the torch Frankie and Branch Rickey were carrying for Sammy Baugh a few weeks back.

Milwaukee Women Score In Pin Meet

CINCINNATI, April 26.—Tournament play in the Women's National Bowling Congress went into its fifth day today with Milwaukee keglers in the standings.

The leaders in each division remained unchanged although the M. Klabunde-F. Kosta combination of Milwaukee went into second place in the doubles with a 1,124 score. Mrs. E. Ryan of Milwaukee was second in the all-events with a 1,782.

Pittsburgh Shows Power In Winning Seven In Row To Top National Circuit

Pirates Take Up Where They Left Off Last Year With 10 Straight Victories; Johnny Rizzo Most Important Addition To Lineup

By GAYLE TALBOT.

It might not be a bad idea to begin taking the Pittsburgh Pirates seriously in the current National league race. They have been a terrible disappointment in recent years, but this is another go-round and Pie Traynor's boys act like they're not fooling.

Their seventh straight win was scored yesterday at the expense of the Chicago Cubs by a score of 8 to 6. That put them a full game in front of the second-place New York Giants, who were held idle by rain at the Polo Grounds.

REDS' HURLING STAFF BOOSTED

Get Big Jim Weaver from Browns; Face Cards Again Today

CINCINNATI, April 26.—The Cincinnati Reds were ready to square off with the Cardinals again here today, with its pitching staff augmented by the purchase of Big Jim Weaver of the St. Louis Browns.

Weaver, erstwhile Covington, Ky., shoe store operator, was obtained in a cash deal. The price was not divulged. Weaver was obtained from the Pirates on waivers last winter and he pitched with the Senators in 1928, the Yankees in 1931, the Browns and Cubs in 1934.

Paul Derringer has marked up the only wins for the Reds this season, hurling three-hit ball yesterday for a 5 to 0 victory over the Cardinals.

Frank McCormick hit a single into center field to drive in two runs in the first inning and the Reds gathered two more in the second on a homer by Alex Kamouris and a triple by Ival Gooden.

Derringer brought in Harry Craft in the eighth for the final count after the centerfielder doubled.

Capital Red Birds Lose Sixth In Row

COLUMBUS, April 26.—If performances in the last two games mean anything, the currently downtrodden Columbus Red Birds appear due to snap out of their losing streak, which now has reached six games.

On Sunday the Red Birds battled Minneapolis on even terms for seven innings before bowing. Yesterday they held the Twin City's other entry, St. Paul, scoreless for nine full innings only to lose in the tenth, 1 to 0.

It was the Saints' fifth straight game to be decided by one run. A wild throw to the plate by Third Baseman Art Garibaldi permitted Vern Washington to score the only run and give Babe Phelps the decision over Rookie Herschel Lyons.

Kansas City handed Louisville a 10 to 2 wallop for Pitcher Jack Tising's first defeat in three starts. Jennings Poindester held Toledo off its fourth straight triumph, 6 to 1. Andy Pinney, former Notre Dame star, punched out a double in the ninth to give Indianapolis the run needed to conquer Milwaukee 5 to 4.

Special Hospital Diets
In addition, special diets must be prepared for patients in the prison hospital.

Approximately 180 cooks, bakers and waiters compose the dining room and kitchen staff, and they are required to pass rigid physical and medical examinations. Night crews work in the kitchen and bakery.

Numerous labor-saving devices expedite the preparation of food. An electric machine rubs the skins off potatoes, and the mixing of dough and slicing for bread is done mechanically. Four 100-gallon and three 150-gallon kettles are used in the preparation of food.

The aluminum dishware is washed and sterilized in a machine which handles 1,000 dishes in 12 minutes.

The two prison dining halls will seat a total of 2,100 persons. The meals are served in three shifts. For instance the "idle line," composed of approximately 1,600 idle and physically handicapped prisoners, eats lunch at 10:30 a. m.; the "main line," or prisoners who work in the shops and factories, eats at 11:30, and the guards at noon.

The food is served "family style" by waiters dressed in the kitchen and dining room is timed to have the food reach the prisoners while it is hot.

fact that for some time Roosevelt was deprived of the association of Spender Harry Hopkins (WPA administrator)? His absence from the capital coincided with the do-nothing period. Hopkins' return marked the beginning of a new era of spending.

Didn't Start Soon Enough
Earlier at Bowling Green, the chairman assailed the so-called "pump priming" program in these words:

"If he (the President) thinks spending is the cure, why didn't he use the money last fall when the tailspin started?"

Bricker declared here that "under the present administration" in Ohio "there has been a purposeful effort to create such a variety of specifications for road construction as to make it possible for the highway department, while going through the motions of advertising for bids, to limit opportunities for bidding to a small class of favored contractors."

First Lady Believes NRA Principle Right

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said today that she believed "the principle of NRA was right even though it did not work out exactly."

She discussed the administration's proposed new spending-lending program at her press conference.

Asked if she thought wage and hour provisions would make the proposed program more secure, the First Lady observed that "as an individual," she believed "in limiting hours of work and minimum wages as a part of any stable economy."

Mrs. Roosevelt said she had no way of judging whether charges of vote-getting in connection with government spending were true, but that she was quite sure of one thing—that there is no intention at the top that such things should happen.

Wallace Sees Farm Aid In F. D. R. Plan

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Secretary Wallace told a house appropriations subcommittee today that $175,000,000 budgeted for the farm security administration in the President's spending-lending program would be used to help some of the 360,000 farm families who have applied for help.

Committeemen said Wallace had informed them, probably not more than half the families who want aid could be taken care of under the $175,000,000 program.

Current fiscal year loans, averaging about $300 per family, have amounted to about $78,500,000 and grants to $23,500,000, the subcommittee was informed.

COLUMBUS, April 26.—Gov. Martin L. Davey proclaimed today a special congressional election in the fourth Ohio district to select a successor to Congressman Frank L. Klob of Celina who last year was appointed federal judge of the Toledo district.

Ford Workers Want Guarantee of Wage

DETROIT, April 26.—The first known attempt of workers in the automobile industry to obtain a guarantee of an annual minimum wage was revealed today by the Ford Brotherhood of America, an independent labor organization.

The brotherhood's goal is at least $1,500 a year for every hourly-rate worker in the mammoth Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Co. in suburban Dearborn, where it claims a membership of 21,400. During peak production periods the factory has nearly 90,000 employees.

The F. B. A. disclosed that it had negotiated with the company the past month and submitted written contract proposals to the management.

President Roosevelt and Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan have advocated the establishment of such a plan.

Henry Ford, founder of the motor company, has an engagement—announced last week—to lunch with President Roosevelt at the White House Wednesday. The subject of their discussion has not been announced.

William S. McDowell, Sr., brotherhood attorney, said that in return for the proposed wage guarantee F. B. A. members would sign an agreement that each would purchase a new car from the company every two years at the same price at which they are sold to dealers.

to the letter spoke of "alarm" over combating the depression with "wasteful extravagance."

More Petitions

Representative Michener (Mich., R.) interrupted Rayburn to request that he also submit "petitions being circulated among WPA workers" urging congress to vote for huge expenditures.

Representative Wolcott (R., Mich.) declared new appropriations should be earmarked for relief and "not be a huge campaign fund for the 1938 elections." The people, he said, had a right to ask legislators to oppose expenditures running into billions.

Chairman O'Connor (D., N. Y.) of the house rules committee said in a radio address that many persons believed the spending-lending program "is only a temporary palliative—a hypodermic administered to a badly smashed up victim who needs thorough medication and possibly amputation."

O'Connor, who led the house fight against the government reorganization bill, urged prevention of further government competition with private business. He advocated repeal of the undistributed profits tax instead of its modification.

President Roosevelt, who will discuss the business situation with Henry Ford tomorrow, may send congress a message late this week on revising the anti-trust laws. An informed person said it probably would request a broad study of the question by a joint congressional committee to report next January.

Theater Attractions

Lloyd Nolan and Mary Carlisle in a scene from "Tip-off Girls," showing at the Grand on a double bill concluding tonight.

While "In Old Chicago," with Tyrone Power, Alice Faye and Don Ameche, continues through tonight and Wednesday at the State, a new double bill will open Wednesday at the Grand.

The pictures, which will show Thursday also, are: "Maid's Night Out," featuring Joan Fontaine and Allan Lane; and "Forbidden Valley," teaming Noah Beery, Jr. and Frances Robinson.

Disguised As Milkman
"Maid's Night Out" deals with the hectic love affair of a young milkman in the disguise of a milkman and a debutante posing as a housemaid.

Each is ignorant of the other's true identity. Lane, an enthusiast on tropical fish, is forced into a wager with his rich dairyman-father that he will run a milk route for a month in exchange for the loan of the family yacht for a trip to the South Seas.

But his plans do not call for his falling in love with a girl, Joan Fontaine, whom he mistakes for a servant and who keeps up the deception, unaware that the handsome youngster is also sailing under false pretenses. As the end of the month approaches, unforeseen complications arise when the two lovers quarrel and the pseudo-milkman is arrested as a burglar.

As he can't take care of his route in jail, it looks as though the wager is lost. However, Joan learns the truth from Lane's companion, and takes the milk truck out herself, which leads up to the hectic ending of the story and the frantic pursuit of the supposedly kidnapped heroine in one of the funniest and fastest "chases" of recent months.

Good Supporting Cast
Hedda Hopper, as Miss Fontaine's scheming mother; George Irving as the wealthy dairy owner, and William Brisbane as the girl's self-appointed fiancé, head the supporting cast of this fast-moving comedy, and add much to its mirth and complications. Revealing the operations of a large dairy, "Maid's Night Out" shows many interesting backgrounds to its unique story.

The other film, "Forbidden Valley," tells the story of a boy who has been hidden away from civilization by his father, unjustly accused of a murder. The son is suddenly precipitated into a bewildering world of which he knows nothing. He falls in love, and finally succeeds in proving his father's innocence.

Concluding tonight at the Grand are: "Mr. Moto's Gamble" with Peter Lorre, Dick Baldwin, Harold Huber, Kory Luke and Lynn Bari; and "Tip-off Girls," featuring Lloyd Nolan, J. Carroll Nash, Mary Carlisle and Evelyn Brent.
